

2023 in review

At the outset of 2023, financial markets grappled with historically gloomy expectations, anticipating a global economic slowdown and the looming threat of a recession. At the same time, central banks globally undertook the challenge of combating inflation. Subsequently, the US faced a regional banking crisis, and global geopolitical tensions reached heightened levels.

However, financial markets defied these concerns, highlighting the wisdom of the adage “time in the market beats timing the market”. Recession fears shifted to confidence as central banks signalled a transition from rate hikes to cuts in 2024, accompanied by a notable easing of inflation pressures. Global economic growth exceeded expectations, creating a favourable environment for risk assets and reshaping expectations towards a ‘soft landing’ – a harmonious blend of lower inflation, reduced interest rates and moderate economic growth.

The Bloomberg Aggregate Global Bond Index rebounded gaining 6% in US dollars after a challenging 2022 (-16%). Locally, performance mirrored emerging markets, trailing major developed markets. Cash produced a return of 8%, offering investors an inflation beating return. With the local currency depreciating by 8% versus the US dollar during the year (2022: -7%), the All Bond Index (ALBI) returned a positive 10% (2022: +4%). Considering the volatility experienced in global bond markets during 2023, local bonds in our view produced a commendable result.

Looking forward

Although there are tentative signs that inflation is cooling globally and rate cuts are potentially on the horizon, it is important to acknowledge that the investment landscape today has undergone a profound transformation compared with the pre-Covid-19 era. We maintain the perspective that inflation may persist longer than widely acknowledged, necessitating a supply side response through investment in the capital-starved real economy – a process that could span years before the situation is rectified. This outlook bodes well for commodity-driven emerging markets like South Africa and other beneficiaries globally.

Fixed income assets remain very attractive in our view, with the rally experienced in the final quarter of 2023 an indication of the immense value embedded in our bonds. We continue to manage risk, focusing on protecting capital both over the long and short term. We believe there are few reasons to be excited about the potential for many years of attractive income returns, particularly in the government bond space as:

- SA bonds offer very low risk of capital loss.
- The high yields on offer, which are well in excess of inflation compensate investors for prevailing risks.
- We are more likely to be closer to the end of the current rate hiking cycle, offering potential for further value in bonds.
- SA bonds will be a major beneficiary of a broader rotation towards commodity-producing markets.

We will aim to ensure the balance of assets in the fund is appropriate in what is likely to be another year of heightened uncertainty.

Disclaimer

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (CIS) are generally medium to long-term investments. The value of participatory interests (units) or the investment may go down as well as up and past performance is not a guide to future performance. Fluctuations or movements in the exchange rates may cause the value of underlying international investments to go up or down. CIS are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. The portfolio may borrow up to 10% of its market value to bridge insufficient liquidity. Where foreign securities are included in a portfolio, the portfolio is exposed to risks such as potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds, macroeconomic, political, foreign exchange, tax, settlement and potential limitations on the availability of market information. The portfolios may be capped at any time in order for them to be managed in accordance with their mandate. PSG Collective Investments (RF) Limited does not provide any guarantee either with respect to the capital or the return of the portfolio. Due to rounding, numbers presented throughout this document may not add up precisely to the totals provided.

Yield

The yield is calculated daily on an annualised basis. The calculation is based on the historic yield of fixed income instruments.

Performance

All performance data for a lump sum, net of fees, include income and assumes reinvestment of income on a NAV to NAV basis. Annualised performances show longer term performance rescaled over a 12 month period. Individual investor performance may differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestment and dividend withholding tax. Performance is calculated for the portfolio and individual investor performance may differ as a result thereof. The portfolio is valued at 15h00 daily. Cut-off time is determined by the platform. Income distributions are net of any applicable taxes. Actual annual figures are available to the investor on request. Prices are published daily and available on the website www.psg.co.za/asset-management and in the daily newspapers. Figures quoted are from Morningstar Inc.

Pricing

Forward pricing is used. Unit trust prices are calculated on a net asset value (NAV) basis, which is the market value of all assets in the Fund including income accruals less permissible deductions divided by the number of units in issue.

Redemptions

The ability of a portfolio to repurchase is dependent upon the liquidity of the securities and cash of the portfolio. To protect investors, a manager may suspend repurchases for a period, subject to regulatory approval, to await liquidity. A suspension ensures that the sale of a large number of units will not force PSG Collective Investments to sell the underlying investments at a price in the market which could have a negative impact on investors. PSG Collective Investments will keep all investors informed should a situation arise where such suspension is required.
