

Current context

2018 was a tough year for most investors. After a ‘Ramaphoric’ start, the JSE experienced its worst year since the global financial crisis. Market sentiment swayed as South Africa’s economic reality set in and, compounded by investor aversion towards emerging markets in general, the FTSE/JSE All Share Index ended the year 9% down in rand terms and the FTSE/JSE South Africa Listed Property Index closed 25% down. The rand, having rallied to R11.50 against the US dollar, was trading at R14.35 at year end. However, the year was more favourable to fixed income markets. The Alexander Forbes Short Term Fixed Interest (STeFI) Index delivered a total return of 7.3% and the FTSE/JSE All Bond Index yielded 7.7%, both achieving positive real returns by outperforming inflation of 5.2%.

Our perspective

While it may feel uncomfortable or even frightening, times like these – clouded by fear and uncertainty – tend to present the best investment opportunities. As Warren Buffett once said, “Every decade or so, dark clouds will fill the economic skies, and they will briefly rain gold. When downpours of that sort occur, it’s imperative that we rush outdoors carrying washtubs, not teaspoons.”

We believe that South Africa currently offers a standout investment opportunity and starting yields in fixed income markets are high: 20-year government bonds are offering yields of around 10% and 5-year bonds around 8%. Short-term interest rates have come in since the last quarter, with the one-year negotiable certificate of deposit (NCD) reducing from 8.3% to 8.2% and the five-year NCD reducing from 9.3% to 8.8%. This implies that the market has built in lower interest rate increases since the last quarter. We still do not expect the South African Reserve Bank to embark on an aggressive hiking cycle.

We anticipate further market noise around the National Budget in February and in the run-up to the May general elections, but believe that local fixed income markets have created the opportunity for strong potential returns in future.

Portfolio positioning

We are starting to see less opportunity in shorter-dated government bonds, as the five-year government bond is yielding around 8.0% while five-year NCDs offer close to 8.8%. We have gradually been reducing exposure to government bonds and expensive corporate bonds, and allocating cash to longer-dated NCDs.

Cash levels remain healthy, with the fund holding 70.9% in cash and NCDs. This is dry powder that we expect to employ if the opportunities we currently see in many domestic securities become more widespread.

Changes in portfolio positioning

	Q3 2018	Q4 2018
Domestic bonds	35.6%	29.1%
Domestic cash and NCDs	64.4%	70.9%

There may be slight differences in the totals due to rounding.

Disclaimer

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (CIS) are generally medium to long-term investments. The value of participatory interests (units) or the investment may go down as well as up and past performance is not a guide to future performance. Fluctuations or movements in the exchange rates may cause the value of underlying international investments to go up or down. CIS are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. The portfolio may borrow up to 10% of its market value to bridge insufficient liquidity. Where foreign securities are included in a portfolio, the portfolio is exposed to risks such as potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds, macroeconomic, political, foreign exchange, tax, settlement and potential limitations on the availability of market information. The portfolios may be capped at any time in order for them to be managed in accordance with their mandate. Excessive withdrawals from the portfolio may place the portfolio under liquidity pressures and in such circumstances a process of ring-fencing of withdrawal instructions and managed payouts over time may be followed. PSG Collective Investments (RF) Limited does not provide any guarantee either with respect to the capital or the return of the portfolio. Due to rounding, numbers presented throughout this document may not add up precisely to the totals provided.
